

Geometric results require a realizability qualifier

Static audit; no contact, receiver, preload dynamics, or grasp-success criterion.

Geometric calculations remain true for their sampled configurations.

This audit does not show that the nominal cup pose can be held exactly by the existing transmission.

Workspace fractions are preserved, not overwritten or rescanned.

Future realizability-aware confirmation is required before dynamic interpretation.